Thrissur: A 21-year-old student created a record for spending the longest time his head fully covered with honey bees. During the performance at the Kerala Agriculture University on Sunday, the youth, who has a curious name M S Nature, spent about 250 minutes with his head fully covered with bees.

According to Nature, the Guinness Records authorities have informed him that the current record was set by a Chinese citizen on May 13, 2014 by spending 53 minutes and 34 seconds with his head

M S Nature will submit the videos to the Guinness Records authorities for getting an entry into the record book fully covered with bees. Now, he would submit the videos of his achievement to the Guinness Records authorities for getting an entry into the record book.

It was his father M R Sa-jayakumar, who is a beekeeper for the last 30 years, who introduced him to the bees during his childhood. "We just have to be careful to avoid provoking the bees, and no other training was required for such an initiative. Only one bee had bitten me during today," Nature said.

He expressed the hope that such performances would promote beekeeping, which has enormous potential in the state.

Agriculture minister V S Sunilkumar felicitated him for the performance.
